

May All Children

Kenneth K. Guilmartin

Gently

May, may all, may all chil - dren, May all peo - ple ev - 'ry - where hear this prayer. May, may all, may all chil - dren, May all peo - ple ev - 'ry - where live in peace, Sweet peace. Peace - ful minds, peace - ful hearts, peace on earth. Sweet peace on earth.

In 1986 Kenneth K. Guilmartin composed a song for the Montclair Cooperative School, where he was developing what was to become Music Together. Originally titled "Solstice Song," it was written for the school's celebration of the fortieth anniversary of UNICEF (the United Nations Children's Fund). The song, rearranged and retitled "May All Children," appeared in the 2002 Music Together Sticks Song Collection in memory of the events of September 11, 2001.

Thousands of families were touched by its simple, heartfelt wish that our children—that everyone—should live in peace. In an effort to keep world peace and children's well-being foremost in our minds, Mr. Guilmartin is making "May All Children" available on the Music Together website and is donating his royalties to the United States Fund for UNICEF.

It is his hope that those who work with children, or with music in any capacity, whether in schools, church groups, or choirs, will use this song and sing out its wish for the world.

You are invited to download the music at musictogether.com, registering performances to track the many ways the song reaches thousands of families around the world. The download is free, but we encourage a modest donation based on music publishing industry standards, 100% of which goes to UNICEF.

The many Music Together center directors and teachers the world over wish you "...peaceful minds, peaceful hearts, peace on earth."
